AWARD-WINNING EXPERIENCES

The Remarkable East Yorkshire Tourism Awards (REYTAs) are a celebration of the quality and excellence of those in the tourism industry. With such strong competition, there’s no greater ringing endorsement than a REYTA, which also gives visitors the confidence to pay the winners a visit.

Experience…

From stately homes, a hands-on agricultural experience, to a trip out to sea, the Yorkshire Wolds has some very different options to experience.

Explore the historic grounds and evocative grand rooms of Burton Constable Hall, a glorious setting with lots to do for a perfect day out for all the family.

Climbing aboard Bridlington’s famous Yorkshire Belle will give you a very different perspective of both RSPB Bempton Cliffs and Yorkshire Wildlife Trust’s seabird colonies at Flamborough Head. Land-based specialist Bishop Burton College, fittingly set in countryside surroundings, offers its visitors the chance to take part in a feeding experience with its animals.

Hull’s Museums & Galleries have seen a real upsurge in visitor numbers over the last 12 months so head there to find out why they’re proving such a popular attraction.

Stay…

Wherever you’re looking to spend the night in order to explore the Yorkshire Wolds we have it, from bed & breakfasts, holiday parks and hotels, to a range of self-catering options.

The newly restored Grade II* listed Lowther Hotel and restaurant in Goole is officially the oldest hotel in England. Also conveniently adjacent to the M62, the four-star Hallmark Hotel Hull offers fine views of the iconic Humber Bridge. Patrington Haven Leisure Park is set in 40 acres of countryside, while Butt Farm Caravan & Camping Site is located just 2 miles from Beverley. A warm welcome awaits at the charming Broadgate Farm Cottages’ converted period farm buildings, the luxury converted barn cottages at High Barn and the Wold Cottage country house, with its award-winning breakfasts.

Eat…

Tickton Grange Country Hotel is renowned for its fabulous food. Chefs work closely with Yorkshire artisan food suppliers to source the finest local ingredients to serve-up for their award-winning Afternoon Tea.

Talking of food producers, the Yorkshire Wagyu Company is on the way to becoming the largest producer of British Wagyu, thanks to farmers Jim Bloom and Jonathan Shepherd, who sell their premium beef direct to consumers, retailers and restaurateurs.

The Westwood Restaurant, just a short walk from the Westwood Pasture in Beverley, has won a host of awards in the ten years it has been in business, with customers enjoying big portions, slick service and an unforgettable dining experience.

Cheers!

You’d be right to expect fine bars, inns and pubs along the Yorkshire Wolds and you won’t be disappointed.

If you look up when you walk into the Lion and Key, on Hull’s historic High Street, you’ll be overwhelmed by the collection of beer mats on the ceiling and may even be tempted to swing on the coach wheel light fitting. It’s the hearty fish and chips, though, that attract many favourable comments at this friendly establishment.

The Wrygarth Inn, in Great Hatfield, near Hornsea, boasts a 150 year history and has made the journey from a coaching house with a blacksmiths to an award winning country pub. It also boasts a locally sourced menu, village store and its own community cinema.

Enjoy…

After a heady 2017 there’ll be no let-up in leisure and entertainment around the Yorkshire Wolds.

Having been thrilled by award-winners Rod Stewart at the KCOM Stadium and the excellent opening salvo to the City of Culture year Made in Hull, those seeking enjoyment now have a clear idea where to head in order to be entertained.

With food festivals and street food nights, farmers markets, music and arts festivals and large scale superstar gigs now all firmly established in the regions events calendar, not to mention the new Hull Venue opening its doors, the party looks set to continue across the region for years to come.
CREATIVE INSPIRATION

An exploration of this corner of East Yorkshire will have you bursting with artistic ideas.

David Hockney, attracted by the big open spaces on offer, may be the biggest name associated with the Yorkshire Wolds but many others also draw inspiration from these landscapes. Poets, writers, photographers, film makers and visual artists regularly tread these paths and roads in order to stir their creativity.

Taking to the Yorkshire Wolds with a notebook, sketchbook or camera will result in you brimming with motivation to craft your own works of art. Without doubt, the landmarks that have influenced others will have the same effect on you.

Along the way there is no shortage of galleries to visit in order to experience the results and endeavours of those that have soaked up the same surroundings.

A unique way to discover art on the Yorkshire Wolds is now available via an app that allows you to experience a collection of Yorkshire Wolds Secret Art. Those that download the app can enjoy paintings and poetry that, as on-screen bubbles pop open, will appear to float in the landscape. This is a terrific, hi-tech and different way to spend a day out with family and friends whilst enjoying the great outdoors.

WELCOME TO THE FOOD LOVERS’ PARADISE

This area doesn’t just provide a belly full of beautiful views. There’s sustenance here of the highest order, born of a geography that lends itself to food production and a celebration of a culinary nature.

The Sellers family have lived and worked at Carr House Farm for five generations, harvesting cereals grown there. Working with the land and balancing wildlife and farming is what Side Oven Bakery is all about. The result is they are able to produce tasty foods using the very best natural ingredients to create traditional products that reflect the characteristics and heritage of the environment, nurtured through organic farming and environmental stewardship.

The Malton Food Trail is one of the country’s top gourmet guided tours. It’s possible to taste your way around what is considered to be Yorkshire’s Food Capital. You’ll meet and chat to the producers of great food along the way, sampling seasonal delights including clementine brownies, award winning sausages, Scotch eggs, handmade chocolates, patisserie delights and Championship beer winding your way up and down Malton’s charming streets while learning local history.

Rydale Vineyard is the most northerly commercial vineyard in Britain, producing delicious wines that have won awards annually since it was established in 2006. The farming methods used have a low impact on the countryside, with harvesting done by hand. Rydale Vineyards work closely with the RSPB and others to ensure that bird life is enhanced.

Run by the Hodgson family at Great Newsome Farm, the Great Newsome Brewery began life in 2007, initially offering two real ales. Now, with at least five cask beers and five bottled beers available at any one time, the brewery regularly delivers direct to pubs, farm shops, restaurants and clubs throughout Yorkshire and North Lincolnshire.

David Nowell, Food & Beverage Executive at Beverley’s Tickton Grange Hotel and founder member of the East Yorkshire Local Food Network, considers himself a lover of food and the great outdoors in equal measure. Living in Beverley, David is surrounded by year-round walking countryside.

“My two passions coincide in the fields and villages of the Yorkshire Wolds where there are many of our artisan producers and farmers beavering away to provide top quality local produce. The East Yorkshire Local Food Network is a collection of these wonderful businesses together with cafes, pubs, guest houses, hotels, restaurants and farm shops providing our local people and visiting tourists with a fantastic choice of food and drink in the glorious surroundings of the Yorkshire Wolds.”

“My weekly ramblings take me on to the Westwood of course, along the disused railway lines, Hull Bridge riverbank, the east coast and the beautiful Wolds Way. It’s great to see the hills and villages from footpath as well as by road.

My two passions coincide in the fields and villages of the Yorkshire Wolds.
TOWNS YOU’LL WANT TO BE AROUND

Small - and some not so small - towns exist right across the Yorkshire Wolds and all of them are perfectly formed.

Driffield

Fascinating and idiosyncratic, historic but equally modern, and boasting market days, pubs, tearooms and restaurants, independent retailers, museums and galleries, along with many noteworthy attractions and events, the towns of the Yorkshire Wolds are all vying for a place in your heart.

Driffield rightly holds the title of capital of the Yorkshire Wolds. This busy market town has a high street that includes a varied mix of independent shops and national retailers, interspersed with cafes, restaurants and public houses. Driffield still celebrates its pivotal farming connections with the annual Driffield Show – the largest one day agricultural show in the UK.

Explorers can enjoy the Mortimer Trail, which marks the archaeological exploits of John Robert Mortimer, and the Driffield Town Trail.

Beverley

The town of Beverley is steeped in maritime history and, due to its inland location, became known as “the port in green fields”. Once a hub for the region’s coal industry, with a skyline that reflects an industrial past, Beverley has reinvented itself as a haven for shoppers, artists and wildlife lovers. Junction is the town’s always busy arts venue while the Yorkshire Waterways Museum rightly nods to the past.

The town of Goole is a grand day out. The Westwood, which is also home to a golf course and grazing cattle, and a golf course and grazing cattle, is modern history theme museum Eden Camp.

If the stature of a town was measured by its most famous resident, Market Weighton would stand taller than most. William ‘Giant’ Bradley was a mighty 7 feet 9 inches high, marked by a statue in the town, where you can head on the town’s Giant Bradley walking trail, or pick up the Hudson Way rail trail. The town is still thriving and boasts some splendid architecture and picturesque Georgian and Victorian streets.

Visitors to Pocklington - the Gateway to the Wolds - are encouraged to don their boots and take to the Wolds Way and the Minster Way, while cyclists can find many enjoyable trails.

There are also the renowned gardens of Burnby Hall while arts lovers can head to Pocklington Arts Centre for its busy programme of work. Pocklington is also a town of independent shops and boutiques, traditional butchers and bakers, great restaurants and impressive drinking establishments. Look out for the Pocklington lily trail, the trail uses Burnby Hall garden’s famous lily to guide visitors from the gardens to the town centre.

The Transpennine and Coast to Coast cycle routes run through Snaint, the ancient but thriving market town dominated by Snaint Priory. Home to the family-owned Old Mill Brewery, Snaint also boasts five public houses, 15 heritage walks - are encouraged to don their boots and take to the Wolds Way and the Minster Way, while cyclists can find many enjoyable trails.

WOLDS VILLAGES

The villages of the Yorkshire Wolds are thriving and offer visitors rural idylls to explore. With so many places to stop by on offer and all of them steeped in history and tradition, deciding where to go might prove challenging. Luckily, established trails the Yorkshire Wolds Way and Yorkshire Wolds Cycle Route help point the way.

BRANTINGHAM

Brantingham sits at the foot of the Yorkshire Wolds. A favourite with walkers for many years, the village is home to one of the most picturesque churches in this part of the country. The Grade II* listed All Saints, now maintained by Historic England, has its origins in the 12th century and was restored in the late 19th century. Other historic buildings of note include Brantingham House and Brantingham Hall. At the centre of the village is the duckpond and those taking on the challenge of Spout Hill may want to call in at former coaching inn The Triton Inn.

KIPLINGCOTES

Kiplingcotes is most famous for the annual Kiplingcotes Derby horse race, the oldest annual horse race in the sporting calendar which has to take place every year by ancient decree or it will cease to be run. The Derby starts close to the Kiplingcotes Railway Station, which served the village until 1965 and was originally for the personal use of local landowner and MP Lord Hotham. The station building, platforms and signal box survive unaltered, along with the station master’s house.

THIXENDALE

The name of the village may have its origins in the 16 dales that are said to lead to it. Alternatively, it may be derived from the old Scandinavian name Sigsten’s Valley. Many cyclists and walkers come to explore Thixendale, being drawn in by its isolated nature – the population of around 130 is heavily outnumbered by the amount of sheep on the surrounding farms. Thixendale is home to Robert Fuller one of Britain’s foremost wildlife artists, a visit to his gallery is not to be missed. The Old Post Office is now a quaint village shop and the Cross Keys Pub is a welcoming refreshment stop for visitors.

NORTH NEWBALD

An archetypal English village with a large village green at its heart, surrounded by stone houses, the pubs The Gnu and The Tiger and the village beck planted with flowers by homeowners. Rumour has it that the large flat circular stone on the green housed the whipping post used in the last public flogging in Britain. The Norman Church of St Nicholas comprises a massive square battlemented central tower on arches over the crossing of nave and transepts.

WESTOW

Westow, surrounded by a farming landscape, is located in the lee of Spy Hill and borders the Howardian Hills. The village affords views to the North York Moors National Park to the east, and the Yorkshire Wolds to the south. Westow plays host to Pétanque tournaments involving teams from all over Yorkshire. A familiar and spectacular site are military aircraft on training missions from RAF Linton-on-Ouse.

HUGGATE

The East Riding of Yorkshire village of Huggate is the highest village on the Yorkshire Wolds at around 558 feet (170 metres) above sea level, providing visitors with some fabulous views. The village is home to the Grade I listed St Mary’s Church and one of the deepest wells in England, which, at 116 yards deep, previously supplied the inhabitants of Huggate with water. Those looking for something stronger should head to the Wolds Inn on the Driffield road.
WALK THE YORKSHIRE WOLDS

The peace and quiet of the area brings a welcome respite from the pressures of everyday life. This is a very special landscape.

Here lies chalk - shaped over millions of years into a combination of hidden and lush green dry chalk valleys and wide open field tops, where the views stretch out for miles and miles.

The Yorkshire Wolds Way National Trail gives you a chance to walk some or even all 79 miles on a journey across this unique piece of countryside.

Along the way you will discover how the rich layers of countryside are complemented by the heritage of the Yorkshire Wolds, such as the parkland of Londesborough and the deserted medieval village of Wharram Percy.

And let’s not forget the wildlife – as in any visit you are almost sure to spot hares on the ground – and red kites in the sky. At the same time don’t miss some of the dramatic artworks from the WANDER – art along the Yorkshire Wolds Way project.

NEW TO WALKING?
The great thing about the Yorkshire Wolds Way is that it is a good route if you are new to countryside walking. There are plenty of easy sections, which we have details of on our website, and because it is a National Trail the signing is superb, so you won’t get lost easily! There are also plenty of short circular walks along the route that will give you a flavour of this area.

“I’m lucky to work in the world’s wildest and most remote places. But when I come home the Yorkshire Wolds is the place that provides natural beauty and peace. There’s a surprise around every corner, a little effort brings big rewards, it dries fast, it’s easily accessible, you can’t get lost and the cafes, pubs and B&B’s are truly wonderful!”

HISTORY, HOUSES AND GARDENS

YORKSHIRE WOLDS RAILWAY
East Yorkshire’s only heritage railway is constantly evolving, with more track added to the attraction. This must-visit project started life in 2008 and now plans are taking shape to re-lay one mile of track to Wetwang Green Lane. The visitor centre is set inside a genuine British Rail MK1 Full Brake coach, while visitors ride on the locomotive Sir Tatton Sykes.

SEWERBY HALL AND GARDENS
Located on a cliff-top just two miles from Bridlington, this refurbished early Georgian house of national significance provides visitors with a chance to experience the house as it was around 1900 with interactive exhibitions. The estate includes walled, rose and pleasure gardens and a woodland walk, zoo and a pitch and putt course, as well as outstanding sea views.

BURTON CONSTABLE HALL
There is no place in Yorkshire quite like Burton Constable Hall, surrounded by 330 acres of stunning historic grade II* listed parkland worked by Capability Brown and housing William Constable’s unique 18th century Cabinet of Curiosities, art and fine furniture collections throughout. The remains of a giant sperm whale are exhibited in the Great Barn and inspired Herman Melville’s Moby Dick, a literary connection that is set to be celebrated.

BURTON AGNES HALL & GARDENS
Not just an historic Elizabethan stately home but also a genuine family home to the Cunliffe-Listers who are very happy to share their spectacular residence. The hall houses 15 generations of treasures, from magnificent carvings to French Impressionist paintings, contemporary furniture, tapestries and other modern artwork. The house is set amid beautiful, award-winning gardens.

STEWART’S BURNBY HALL GARDENS AND MUSEUM
The unique Yorkshire Gardens of Burnby Hall which houses a National Collection of over 100 varieties of Hardy Water Lilies have been described “a jewel in Yorkshire’s crown.” A two-year project has seen the improvement of the Lakes, fish stock replenished, the renovation of the Edwardian summerhouse and potting shed, with plans to re-plant the Rock Garden using the original Edwardian planting guide and the creation of an on-site Learning Zone.

THE SCAMPSTON ESTATE
Scampston Hall is a Regency period estate with an exciting twist. The contemporary Walled Garden has been described by Sir Richard Carew Pole as one of the great gardens of the early 21st century: “a jewel in Yorkshire’s Wolds. The 12 acre site is currently planted with over six acres of Lavender ranging from rich hues of purple to the purest white. A new Wildflower Sculpture Walk also adds vivid colour and an interesting selection of sculptures.

WHARRAM PERCY
A deserted medieval village that offers a glimpse into a past life. The village was occupied for six centuries. Ghostly outlines remain along with substantial church ruins and the millpond. A great place to walk and reflect on life.

WOLDS WAY LAVENDER
Wolds Way Lavender and Herb Farm is a wonderful and relaxing place to spend your time in the Yorkshire Wolds. The 12 acre site is currently planted with over six acres of Lavender ranging from rich hues of purple to the purest white. A new Wildflower Sculpture Walk also adds vivid colour and an interesting selection of sculptures.

JACKSON’S WOLD GARDEN
A three acre garden on the edge of the Yorkshire Wolds affording stunning views over the Vale of Pickering. The walled gardens provide a rich tapestry of scent, colour and character.

SLEDMERE HOUSE
Both a Georgian and Edwardian House designed by Samuel Wyatt and, subsequently, Sir Christopher Sykes. Sledmere House attracts new devotees annually to experience Joseph Rose plasterwork, furniture by Chippendale, Hepplewhite, Sheraton and gardens landscaped by Capability Brown.

OPEN GARDENS
The gates to private gardens in the area are opened annually as part of the National Gardens Scheme www.ngs.org.uk

WASSAND HALL
A Regency house surrounded by tranquil walled gardens, a woodland walk and housing a collection of 18th and 19th century paintings, English and European silver, furniture and porcelain.

SCRAYINGHAM CHURCHYARD
The ‘Railway King’ George Hudson, who expanded the country’s rail network, is buried in Scrayingham Church. Parishioners are currently raising funds to restore the grave of the Victorian railway entrepreneur.

DISCOVER YORKSHIRE’S WILD SIDE

Home to some of Britain’s most iconic wildlife, East Yorkshire is the natural destination for any wildlife lover. With a huge array of Springwatch worthy wildlife encounters to choose from, when will you discover Yorkshire’s wild side?

Go on puffin patrol or a seashore safari

Between April and July, marvel at over half a million seabirds at RSPB Bempton Cliffs and YWT Flamborough Cliffs. Colourful puffins, raucous kittiwakes and soaring gannets all top the bill at one of the most accessible seabird colonies in the UK.

Take a boat trip and peer up at the towering chalk cliffs – the Yorkshire Belle or North Landing Boat Tours.

Hop over the headland to the Living Seas Centre at South Landing for the latest whale and dolphin sightings, or take part in a rockpooling seashore safari with a friendly marine expert.

Booming bitterns and awesome avocets

Bitterns, bearded tits and marsh harriers all make their homes in the reedbeds at Blacktoft Sands, alongside the resident conservation grazing Konik ponies.

Just a half hour’s drive away, the ever growing North Cave Wetlands has an impressive reputation for wildlife, offering close up views of breeding avocet and dragonflies during spring and summer, with huge flocks of waders and waterfowl during winter.

Otters are a year round resident in East Yorkshire

Otters are a year round resident in East Yorkshire. They can be seen from the Humber Bridge or from the waters of the Humber Estuary. The Humber Estuary is a vast array of birds and other wildlife on migration, including the resident Konik ponies.

On top of the Wold

Having successfully colonised the Yorkshire Wolds, red kites are a regular sight on the skyline. Underfoot, the chalky soil is perfect for wildflower displays, at their most impressive in June and July. Top spots for orchids include Flamborough Cliffs and the Hudson Way footpath.

Wetland wonders

Nestled in the heart of the countryside, Tophill Low is a haven for otters, water voles, kingfishers and barn owls. While away the day exploring the many viewing hides and the watery panorama from the new welcome centre, or tread your path amongst the orchid meadows and butterfly-filled woodland glades.

Migration miracles

East Yorkshire becomes a huge arrivals and departure lounge every spring and autumn for a vast array of birds and other wildlife on migration. The Humber Estuary is an aerial motorway leading inland, whilst Flamborough and Spurn Point are iconic locations on the navigation map. This year sees the opening of the Spurn Discovery Centre, and you can also enjoy the 128ft lighthouse, a 4x4 safari and more in this dramatic landscape. Whatever the season, there’s always plenty of action!
1. Bempton Cliffs (RSPB) YO15 1JF
   All-accessible clifftop viewing platforms overlook this famous seabird colony that fills the cliffs between April and July.

2. Blacktoft Sands (RSPB) DN14 8HR
   There is always something to see amongst the reeds, with bitterns, bearded tits and marsh harriers all year round.

3. Flamborough Cliffs (Yorkshire Wildlife Trust/ERYC) YO15 1BJ
   As well as the impressive seabird colony, this coastal nature reserve has sandy coves, sea caves and rockpools to explore.

4. Hornsea Mere (Wassand Estate) HU11 5RJ
   This large freshwater lake attracts a huge variety of wildlife throughout the year, including grebes, marsh harriers and warblers.

5. Hudson Way (ERYC) YO43 3NA
   Kiplingcotes Chalk Pit nature reserve lies on this ten mile footpath between Beverley and Market Weighton, great for orchids and butterflies in midsummer.

6. Kilnsea Wetlands (Yorkshire Wildlife Trust) HU12 0UB
   Very close to Spurn, a great spot for roosting waders in winter and breeding waders in summer, along with the neighbouring rare little tern colony.

7. Living Seas Centre (Yorkshire Wildlife Trust/ERYC) YO15 1AE
   Drop in to find out more about the area’s marine wildlife, enjoy arts and crafts activities with the kids or take part in an event.

8. Millington Wood (ERYC) YO42 1TZ
   A beautiful ash woodland packed with spring bluebells with views over the Yorkshire Wolds.

9. North Cave Wetlands (Yorkshire Wildlife Trust) HU15 2LY
   A large nature reserve with great wildlife all year round, including breeding avocets in summer and huge numbers of overwintering waterfowl.

10. Spurn National Nature Reserve (Yorkshire Wildlife Trust) HU12 0UH
    Start at the new Spurn Discovery Centre and café, climb the award-winning 128ft lighthouse, take a Spurn Safari 4x4 tour or follow the trails to explore this unique Yorkshire landscape all year round.

11. Tophill Low (Yorkshire Water) YO25 9RH
    With something to see all year round, this large nature reserve is home to otters, kingfishers and barn owls and is a magnet for huge numbers of overwintering birds.

12. The Humber Bridge Country Park (ERYC) HU13 0HB
    Local Nature Reserve is a haven for people and wildlife set amongst woods, meadows, ponds and cliffs with views over the River Humber and towering Humber Bridge. The reserve supports a wide and varied range of wildlife.

THE PERFECT PLACE TO BE ACTIVE

When you’re out and about in the broad open spaces of the Yorkshire Wolds you’re in the ideal place for those who love to get even more energetic.

The broad open spaces of the Yorkshire Wolds are the perfect destination for anyone looking to walk, cycle, explore on horseback, indulge in watersports or take in a round of golf.

There are miles of golden coastline to explore. The Active Coast initiative ensures that you can get active, be healthy and enjoy life. Traditional resorts Bridlington, Hornsea and Withernsea offer a range of activities. Find out more at www.visithullandeastyorkshire.com/coast/Active-Coast.aspx

For horse lovers, places to head on quiet rides or more exhilarating canters along with trail rides and equestrian centres can be identified at www.rideyorkshire.org and www.woldsriding.co.uk

For an aerial view of the landscape the Wolds Gliding Club, in Pocklington, is regarded as the premier gliding site in the North. www.wolds-gliding.com

Those that love messing about on the water are well catered for by the likes of the Allerthorpe Watersports Activity Centre, Billabong Lakeside Watersports in Brandesburton, the Royal Yorkshire Yacht Club in Bridlington and Hornsea Mere, to name just a few.

The East Yorkshire Golf Passport and the Golf Coast Passport will allow you to play the premium courses in the area, including the Bridlington Belvedere Golf Club, Beverley and East Riding Golf Club and Hainsworth Park.

Active Kids
If you’re looking for some family-friendly action to keep the young people in your life happy and moving you’ll find plenty to keep them occupied.

William’s Den is a brand new adventure attraction that gives families the freedom to play while experiencing a great day out. Wide-open spaces allow children to explore while connecting with nature and a unique indoor play area guarantees fun, whatever the weather. www.williamsden.co.uk

Let Loose! is an action packed, all-weather adventure park that will entertain everyone. Naturally handcrafted high and low ropes courses, a huge geodome, slides and a log built adventure playground provide challenges and thrills. www.letlooseyorkshire.co.uk

Pick from an exciting range of outdoor pursuits including cycling, special interest and historical walks, horse riding, nature safaris, bushcraft, nordic walking, specialist guided walks, boat trips and even a Buddhist experience plus lots more.
On the edge of the Yorkshire Wolds and the Vale of York, Pocklington is an ancient settlement with a weekly Tuesday market dating back to 1245 and a noted selection of independent shops.

Pocklington has a vibrant cultural scene with events and festivals occurring throughout the year. The festivals include Flying Man, Platform and Tulip at Burnby Hall Gardens and Museum. There are sporting events such as Rugby 7’s, The Snake 10 mile run and the Pock Pedal. Pocklington Arts Centre has a programme of live music, comedy and theatre and has recently undergone a major refurbishment in time for 2017.

Known as the Gateway to the Wolds, it is a “Walkers are Welcome Town” and cycling centre, with numerous short and long distance routes to enjoy; including the Yorkshire Wolds Way national trail and the Way of the Roses cycle route.

The town prides itself on its rich heritage, warm welcome and excellent facilities for visitors and residents alike.

Pocklington Canal

Truly a gem in the landscape, this tranquil, picturesque waterway runs for nine and a half miles west of the town of Pocklington before reaching the River Derwent. Famed for its wildlife, bridges and locks, nearly half of this canal has now been restored for boats and canoes to use once again.

Take a stroll or cycle ride along the towpath at Canal Head (just off the A1079, YO42 1NW), taking in the special wildlife habitats, historic locks and bridges on the way. Hop aboard the New Horizons narrowboat on Sundays (April-October) from Melbourne Moorings (pedestrian access along the track next to the Melbourne Arms pub on Main Street, YO42 4QJ).

Don’t miss the many special events taking place this year to mark the bicentenary of Pocklington Canal, thanks to the Canal & River Trust, Pocklington Canal Amenity Society and the Heritage Lottery Fund.

Our Attractions

Yorkshire Air Museum & Allied Air Forces Memorial
More than just an air museum!

Great for Families / Groups / Schools

- Evocative, authentic wartime airbase
- 60 historic aircraft and vehicles
- The only Halifax bomber in Europe
- Informative, educational exhibitions
- 20 acre aircraft park and gardens

The Yorkshire Air Museum & Allied Air Forces Memorial has become a favourite destination for visitors to the region and has been regularly awarded the Trip Advisor Certificate of Excellence and holds the Visit England ‘Visitor Attraction Quality Assured’ badge.

Our extensive exhibitions includes “Pioneers of Aviation”, which explores Yorkshire’s aviation heritage as the birthplace of manned flight with Scarborough born Sir George Cayley’s man-carrying glider of 1853. It also features Leeds born Robert Blackburn, who established the first flying school at Filey and then his aircraft factory at Brough, near Hull, thus beginning a long history of aviation manufacture in the region.

We could not forget the amazing, record-breaking Hull born aviator Amy Johnson’s epic solo flights to South Africa and Australia and the exhibition provides a fascinating insight into her exploits. The work of the legendary Sir Barnes Wallis is covered, including a striking interpretation of the ‘Bouncing Bomb’ and the ‘Dambuster’ raids, plus his early connection to Yorkshire with airship building at Howden.

During WWII, East Yorkshire airfields were the backbone of 4 Group Bomber Command, with Halifax bombers taking the war to the German industrial heartland. The Museum houses the definitive national exhibition on Bomber Command, “Against the Odds”, which has become a focal point of our many displays.

Pride of place in the collection of over 60 aircraft and vehicles is the unique reconstruction of the Halifax bomber “Friday the 13th”, which flew 128 successful missions with 158 Squadron, based at RAF Lissett, near Bridlington. From the pioneering Cayley Glider, Wright Flyer and Blackburn Mercury Monoplane to the supersonic Mirage III and Tornado jets, the superlative collection spans the history of flight! Seven of our aircraft are in live, engine running condition and perform in our exciting “Thunder Days” and other events and these include the mighty Nimrod MR2 and Victor V Bomber jets.

Browse exquisite paintings and bronze sculpture at top UK wildlife artist Robert E Fuller’s stunning Wolds gallery. Also see displays of his award-winning photographic and video studies of birds and animals from around the world. Robert E Fuller goes to extraordinary lengths to watch wildlife. Visitors gain an insight into this process via live screens relaying action from inside the nests of weasels, stoats, barn owls, kestrels and tawny owls and information boards telling their stories. The artist also holds guided nature walks to see the badgers and owls that have inspired his paintings, as well as falconry and children’s bush craft events.
